

I like Seton because . . . . .

(quotes from students)

“easy to get help from teachers”

”wide variety of sports”

“kids are respectful”

“I can take an SAT Prep class right at Seton.”

“we have fun when we go to school”
“many clubs & activities to join”
“tight-knit, family-like atmosphere”

“teachers are encouraging”

“everyone knows each other”

“good teacher – student ratio”

“teachers teach in a fun way”

“one floor”

“service projects”

“strong curriculum”

“no fighting here!”

“school trips”

“Catholic atmosphere”

“team sportsmanship”

“we have International students which means I can learn things about other countries through other students”

“teachers and students have a good relationship”

“Seton students meet expectations and gain knowledge”

“we have religion classes so we can learn more about our religion”

Semestering allows me to concentrate on fewer subjects so my grades are better

“the school is easy to get around”

“classes prepare you for college”

“everyone has a chance of playing a sport if they want”

“strong math and science program”

Why do parents choose Seton ?

(quotes from parents)

“Why go to the trouble and expense of sending children to Catholic schools? First, I want my child to understand her faith and to take it seriously. Second, I want my child to learn Christian moral and ethical values, and I think that is more likely to happen in a school where teachers can speak freely about Jesus as the model of the good life. Third, I want my child to have a group of friends with similar values, and I think that’s more likely to happen in a Catholic school where families have made a deliberate choice of religious education.”

“We are very fortunate in this area to have a choice about where we educate our children. Our Catholic schools provide an excellent academic program with outstanding results on the New York Sate exams. Just as important though is the solid education that students receive in moral and ethical values. Community service and compassion for others are not values that only come up at Christmas time but everyday.”

“Moral values are endangered in our society today. We can see this by looking at what is going on in our world. By attending Seton, our children are being prepared for their future with the ability to make good moral decisions for themselves and the society they will be living in.”

“While considering a school for our children we searched for a partnership that shared our moral and ethical values. We looked for as school that prides itself in the Catholic tradition of excellence. We also looked for a partner in developing our children into responsible members of our society. A free society that owes its freedom to the Christian foundation from which it was built. We found that partner at Seton. Seton is a not a school where students merely survive, it is a school where students thrive, and consistently score in the upper levels of all standardized tests and achievement measures.”

“I am grateful for the guidance and support they have provided my son in the difficult process of selecting possible career paths and applying to universities best suited for that path. I am proud to say that Seton Catholic has helped him become who he is today.”

“We have never regretted choosing Catholic schools for our children. We know that the values and morals we embody have been promoted without compromise in school. Self-respect, compassion, sportsmanship and respect for others are taught and encouraged. The academics standards are excellent. Your child will never lack for academic support and encouragement at Seton. The family like atmosphere is a point of pride at Seton. As students gather for their club’s activities and to play sports, parents and extended families are closely involved in their support and success. This participation and volunteering has allowed us to make wonderful friends while working toward a common goal. This had been a real blessing to our family and we have received so much more than we have given.”